

In Passing

Tonight you are here
And I know it won't be long
'Till we fall apart
If I'm not who I was
Then please forgive me
We are

Separated by Complicated Lives
There's no reason why
I should be without you here
Never thought you'd be
Just a face etched in memory
It's killing me
Hey, maybe sometime I'll see you
IN PASSING

There's no turning back
The spell is gone
The tide set in
Well I'm holding strong
To what is left
But it isn't much
Baby I'd give a lifetime
To feel your touch

And now, the bed's too wide
You've up and left
With all the places
For me to hide
I can't help but feeling like
I failed you somehow
But worst of all
I failed myself

But I still love you

I still love you
It's killing me
Separated
It's killing me
Separated
Hey, maybe sometime I'll see you...
